Alabama's Longleaf Pine: A Closer Look

Solon Dixon Forestry Education Center, Andalusia

June 21-23, 2021

Jessica Tucker, Andalusia City Schools

Jason Tucker, Elba City Schools

Get ready to learn more about the majestic longleaf pine and its important role in Alabama's history in Alabama's Longleaf Pine: A Closer Look. Once covering 92 million acres of the American southeast, this forest is now found on only 3 million acres. Participants will spend three days at the Solon Dixon Forestry Education Center, amid 5,300 acres of forests, swamps, springs, and river frontage. Hear from Rhett Johnson, the co-founder and president of the Longleaf Alliance, Inc. and co-author of Longleaf, Far as the Eye Can See; Roger Reid, author of the children's novel Longleaf and writer, director, and producer of the award-winning TV series Discovering Alabama; and Renee Raney, author of Hairy, Scary, but Mostly Merry Fairies. Teachers will participate in hands-on activities, field trips, and receive numerous classroom resources that will equip them to share the story of Alabama's biodiversity in their schools and classrooms.
