

ADAH Facilities Use Guide
October 26, 2022

Section 1. Introduction

In 1901, Alabama created the first state department of archives and history in the United States. Collections in the Alabama Department of Archives and History (ADAH) and Museum of Alabama include the documents and artifacts that tell the story of the people of Alabama.

Professional organizations, state agencies, and civic groups may use ADAH facilities for board meetings, workshops, training sessions, and seminars when these areas are not being used for department-related purposes. Events at the Archives must be consistent with the institution's historical charter. Events that interfere with public access or use of research facilities, museum galleries, or other department activities are not allowed. ADAH facilities are not available for private social functions such as weddings, engagement parties, anniversaries, birthdays, or other private parties. Rooms provide a functional venue for seated groups as small as 8 and as large as 150. In most instances, use of ADAH facilities requires payment of fees.

Metered on-street parking is available around the Archives building on Washington Avenue, Bainbridge Street, and Adams Avenue. Free limited off-street parking is also available in the Archives parking lot across from the south entrance of the building off Adams Avenue. Lodging and restaurants are available a short distance from the building. The Archives is compliant with ADA regulations.

ADAH facilities are available for special events Monday through Friday, and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., excluding state holidays. Event bookings outside normal business hours are contingent on staff availability and require additional fees. An ADAH Facilities Use Agreement (See Section 8) must be signed and returned confirming any event reservation at least ten (10) business days prior to the event.

Organizations using ADAH facilities shall indemnify and hold harmless the State of Alabama, its departments, agents, and employees, from and against all suits, damages, claims, or other liabilities due to personal injury or death, damage to or loss of property to the state or to others, or for any other injury or damage arising out of or resulting from the use of the ADAH facilities.

For more information concerning Archives facility use and fees, contact the ADAH Security and Facilities Manager at (334) 353-4719.
